

New York & New Orleans: Creation of Social-Vulnerability Index

Student Mentor Jose Pillich

Advisor: Brian Vant-Hull

A comparative analysis of the social and environmental impacts of Hurricane Sandy and Hurricane Katrina. Remote sensing and geographic information system data will be used to create a composite index. The final analysis will present insights of the populations that were the most vulnerable in each city.