

Nature Water

New Journal in the Nature Portfolio

Thursday, January 30, 2025 | 12-1 pm EST
Location: Exhibit Room, GSOE at City College

Speaker:

Dr. Karin Sjöstrand
Senior Editor, Nature Water

Nature Water, which launched in 2023, covers all elements of research related to the relationship between society and water resources. Dr. Karin Sjöstrand, a member of the editorial team from the journal's inception, will discuss the lead-up to and launch of Nature Water, how it fits within the wider Nature family, and the editing and publishing processes at Springer Nature. Nature Water focuses on the natural sciences (primarily Earth and environmental science), engineering (including environmental, civil, chemical, and materials engineering), and social sciences (economy, human geography, and sociology, among other disciplines), with a special emphasis on interdisciplinary research. The purpose of the journal is to publish studies that will help advance fundamental understanding and have an impact on practical technology applications and policy implementation possibilities.

This seminar is open to all CUNY students, faculty, and professionals
